Vision Systems' has brought the latest superyacht glazing technology – in the form of its Nuance photovoltaic dimming system – to the humble opening hatch. The product, a DAME Award Category Winner in 2016, works independently of the vessel's electrical system thanks to photovoltaic cells integrated into the frame of the window which harvest solar energy and store it in a battery. Control options include a touch screen panel on the window, a remote PED, or automatically via external sensors which respond to both light and temperature.
